Science

In this unit, students explore how everyday materials can be physically changed in a variety of ways according to their properties.

- They describe the actions used to physically change materials to make objects for different purposes, understanding that science involves asking questions about and describing changes to objects that are used in their everyday lives.
- Students respond to questions, make predictions and participate in guided investigations exploring the effects of making changes to materials and objects.
- They use a range of methods to sort information and collect and record observations, comparing them with the observations of others.
- They modify a material for a given purpose, test their modifications and compare their observations with predictions.

Religious Instructions (RI)

RI lessons will recommence from Thursday of week 1.

HASS

In this unit students will explore the following inquiry question: How has my family and daily life changed over time?

Learning opportunities support students to:

- explore family structures and the roles of family members over time
- recognise events that happened in the past may be memorable or have personal significance
- identify and describe important dates and changes in their own lives
- compare aspects of their daily lives to aspects of daily life for people in their family in the past to identify similarities and differences
- respond to questions about the recent past
- sequence and describe events of personal significance using terms to describe the passing of time
- examine sources, such as images, objects and family stories, that have personal significance
- share stories about the past.

Health

Healthy Lifestyles - Healthy eating and exercise, healthy foods- Food Pyramid.
